WELCOME TO THE HOUSE OF BOOKS

the stage of mystery and imagination

This magic place is full of myths, full of stories worth telling: the story of Prometheus taking the fire away from Mount Olympus to give it to mankind, the story of the rose caught in the fire of desire, the story of queer firefighters turning out to be hunters of a lost cause, the story of a stranger who got lost and decided to become a book and last but not least the story of the line between the sky and the sea, the thread of dreams. If you want to know more about the mystery of books, come and meet us on St. Patty's Book and Poetry Night. Alex Fohl and Judith Lecuit will be leading you through a maze of poetry and music, adding the sensual magic of the strings to the powerful beauty of the words.

Judith Lecuit is a cellist, born in Luxembourg. Being a versatile artist she performs solo as well as with different musical groups and musicians. She also is the leader of the cello group of the Chamber Orchestra of Luxembourg. Diverging from her classical education, she is attracted towards experimental projects such as working together with poets, actors or other artists accompanying or enhancing their productions with music.

Alex Fohl failed to be a musician. He became a writer instead. As an artist he is fond of storytelling; he provides writing and seeing with a philosophical touch. His Photo-Painting Poetry Project is an essay on telling the story of things exposed to a different light, sharing poetic views suspended in fading memories. Born and living in Esch/Alzette, he has taken the lead of ARTICHOCS, an international Art Promoting Company based in Luxembourg.
